When the surrounding world was engulfed in flames, a plane was sent flying through the sky to the lonely island, hoping to be close to its remnants, but it crashed instead, sending the pilot falling down to the center of the island. Then, an angel that was close to the island fell down onto the crash site and woke the pilot up. He had fallen unconscious, but he woke up again and saw a beautiful green forest, a lake and sky blue ocean, and a beautiful woman named Misa appeared in front of him. She told him she was his guardian angel, that there was a place called a "Clover Flower Paradise", where he could restore his mind and body, but that it would only be available for a limited period of time, and he should not make the attempt unless he was ready to die. She told him that the island was perfect for his attempt. When he returned to his plane after remembering the island on a helicopter, he rushed to the nearest town and met a man named Bo to have him repair the helicopter and fly to the island. He flew to the island and landed to find a house made of bamboo. He entered the house and let out a sigh of relief and thought, "Wow, I don't know what's become of me, but this place feels just like home!" The house was strangely familiar to him. As he began to walk around, he came across a lake with the mermaid that Misa had mentioned in the beginning, where she taught him how to swim. He spent some time with her in the lake and learned how to use his hands to accomplish even more, and began to prepare for his attempt to get his body and mind back. He met the man named Bo, who told him about the Clover Flower Paradise. Free VR Game
